Paranormal Galaxy* Submission Guidelines.

Thank you for your interest Paranormal Galaxy. We are currently looking for new contributors to add to our database of writers. Our editorial review committee will assess each submission carefully as we are looking for quality content to meet the needs of our audience in the luxury space. By submitting an article to Paranormal Galaxy the author agrees that Paranormal Galaxy is free to edit grammar and typographical errors without the consent of the author. Paranormal Galaxy reserves the right to:

1. Request the author rework and article if it is not up to the Paranormal Galaxy standards and resubmit for further review.
2. Change the article title to better suit the needs of the Paranormal Galaxy edition and editorial calendar, or improve SEO.
3. Reject the submission.

Paranormal Galaxy publishes a monthly digital edition as well as daily online posts. New content will be reviewed for inclusion in the digital edition and if selected will be held until the appropriate digital edition is released. That same article will be posted online after the digital version is released. Not all content that is selected will be included in the digital publication and may only be promoted on the website.

The marketing team at Paranormal Galaxy makes every effort to promote each writer's post(s) via social media and other online outlets, etc. We encourage our writers to actively promote their own posts and those of their fellow writers via their own social outlets.

New Content. Paranormal Galaxy pays a modest amount per article for fresh, new content. This is a one-time fee, and each article may be used in as many formats as Paranormal Galaxy sees fit (i.e. digital edition, online, print, newsletter, electronic, etc.) for up to one year from the date of submission, with the expectations that the content will be posted indefinitely. The contributor must commit to publishing the content exclusively with Paranormal Galaxy and not republishing for six months after the Paranormal Galaxy publication release date.

Republished Content. Paranormal Galaxy does accept previously published content by active contributors but does not pay for this type of content. It will be promoted via our social media outlets and along with new content. We are always looking for evergreen content, so please submit for review.

Submission Guidelines:

Please follow our guidelines as failure to comply may result in rejection. Contributors who consistently do not abide by our guidelines will be removed from our database. Once a contributor has been selected by the Paranormal Galaxy editorial committee they will be provided with their own online access to post their content directly into our system. If you're interested in submitting an article for consideration and joining us as a contributor please submit an application. Our editorial review committee reviews new submissions once a month.

Guidelines:

1. Title. The title should be direct and to the point. If submitting an article to be included in a digital edition before releasing online, place the words DIGITAL EDITION at the end of the article title.

Example: Chain of Souls

2. Subtitle: We encourage a subtitle that allows for a more creative detail of the article.

Example:

3. Word count. We are looking for articles that are on average 1,500-2000 words for features and will take smaller articles 500-1,500.

4. Spacing. Articles should be single spaced.

5. New paragraphs. One space between paragraphs.

6. Margins. Margins should always be flush to the left.

7. Content. We are looking for well-written, creative, informative and entertaining content that targets the luxury market. We follow the AP Stylebook.

Photographs.

Paranormal Galaxy does not currently pay for photos, however we encourage our contributors to submit photograph to support their articles. Photographs. We accept photographs uploaded as JPG and/or PNG files for articles published online at www.paranormalgalaxy.com.

Photographs that will be included in the monthly digital edition should be high-resolution. Details on uploading for the digital publication will be provided once a contributor has been accepted.

Photograph files must be named as follows: Article Title-Contributor Name. In the event the title is long, please include the first three words of the title.

At the end of each article credit must be provided to the photographer or copyright holder for all images included in the article.
